SANTA OFFERS PRIZES FOR BEST LETTERS

Boys and girls, what do you want Santa Claus to bring you for Christmas?

Whatever it is, how is he going to know about it unless you write? He will be very glad to get your letters. If your letter is good enough, you may win a special prize.

Yes, Santa Claus and The Record have made a deal by which letters to him may be sent to The Record, 3317 San Jose avenue. All letters sent here will be published each week, and the best will win prizes.

Just what these prizes are, will be announced in The Record on November 29. Winners will be announced in The Record on December 20.

There will be two grand first prizes, one for a boy and another for a girl. Then there will be a second and a third prize.

All boys and girls up to the age of nine are eligible. The letters must be written by the youngsters, and will be judged according to the age of the contestant. In this way, a younger child has as good a chance to win a prize as an older one. The child's name, address and age must appear on each letter.

So, boys and girls, get busy with paper and pen or pencil. You may win an extra Christmas present for yourself, or if you like, use the prize as a yuletide gift for someone else.

And watch next week's Record columns for your letters, and also to find out what other Daly City, Colma, Westlake and Broadmoor youngsters want for Christmas.

Knife Wielding Youths Rob Local Station Of $40

Pair Disappear Into The Night

Two knife wielding youths, described as the "latin type," are being sought today by local police, following their robbery of a local gas station last week.

The pair seized $40 from Lou Buchel, attendant on duty at the Associated Service station at 87th avenue and Junipero Serra boulevard.

Inquiring about a cigarette machine, the men walked into the station late Friday night. One of the men slipped behind Buchel, and pressing a knife to his back, barked: "Open the cash register, or I'll let you have it."

With the knife still pushing against his jacket, the attendant did as he was ordered. The other youth emptied the register, and with an order to "keep quiet," they fled on foot.

A few seconds later, Buchel called the police, but a search of the neighborhood failed to turn up the two men.

Buchel described the pair as about 20 years old, having long sideburns, wearing leather jackets, blue jeans, and motorcycle type boots.

S. F. FIRM TO PAINT INSIDE CITY HALL

City Hall is soon to get a face lifting.

City Administrator Dan Andersen said the inside of the building will receive a coat of paint within the next two weeks. A color consultant is coming out this week to choose "an appropriate color scheme" for the building.

The job has been awarded a San Francisco firm, Leslie White, who bid $660. There were three local bids, but they were all too high, Andersen said. The three bids were $1,150; $850; and $720 respectively, Andersen reported.

THE KID IDENTIFIED

The Kid—1951, whose picture appeared on page one of The Record last week, has been identified.

She is Susan Wayne Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne Alexander, 1045 Brunswick street. The little miss was three-years-old on November 5. For the Halloween festivities she was costumed as a "boho," to use her own expression.

XMAS POST OFFICE JOBS AVAILABLE

Christmas jobs with the post office are now available, it was announced today.

Those interested in part time work are requested to contact the mayor's office, City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue. They will be given a card, assuring them of a job with the post office during the Christmas rush.

Mayor Paul Green said any man or woman over 18 years of age may apply. However, he said the jobs were primarily for those who "really needed" the extra funds.

Interested persons should contact City Hall immediately, as the number of jobs is limited.

Ambulance Service Now Inadequate

Sheriff Whitmore Asked To Explain

None too happy about the present north county ambulance service, the northern city councils next month will call on Sheriff Earl Whitmore for an explanation of why the ambulance was moved from San Bruno to Mills Field.

A discussion of the service was held at the regular meeting of the north city councils last Thursday eveing at The Club Casino, 6192 Mission street. Host city for the evening was Colma, and the meeting was presided over by Mayor Jack Price.

The city officials report since the ambulance base was moved "service has become very inadequate" for the north county cities. Although Daly City is not seriously affected, as it has its own ambulance service, Colma and Broadmoor are handicapped by the new set-up.

Explanation

Sheriff Whitmore is expected to explain the new ambulance policy at the next meeting of the group in December.

The council also went on record supporting the proposition of Mayor Love of Burlingame in regards to gasoline tax fund money. Presently the funds are limited to construction of new streets and maintenance of major roadways. Mayor Love proposes the money be employed for maintenance of all city streets.

Principal speakers of the evening was Charles Becker, Westlake attorney, who spoke on "The New Municipal Court System and How It will Effect You."

His speech will be found on the editorial page of The Record.

Bad Checks Trip Youthful County Narcotics Ring

Two Daly City Youths Involved

Two Daly City youths, one of whom has been in constant trouble with police for four of his 16 years, today stand accused of passing bad checks to raise money for the purchase of narcotics.

Also involved is a 19-year-old Lomita Park youth, and possibly six to 10 other teen-agers who as yet have not been apprehended.

Willits Arrest

The 16-year-old Daly City boy was arrested in Willits last Friday, one day after the two other gang members were arrested in Daly City and Lomita Park respectively.

Sgt. Roy Beecher, who made the Friday arrest along with A. L. Lamport of the District Attorney's office, said the boy had several marihuana cigarettes in his possession.

The youthful gang is suspected of stealing checks from one San Mateo county firm and two firs in San Francisco.

Lamport said only a few of the checks have come in, but that those in his possession, made out in amounts varying from $64 to $69 are part of the 150 stolen blank checks.

All of the checks carry the firm name of either the Jax Drive-In; Rodoni-Becker Company, or the Superior Truck and Body Company.

Bad Checks

Sgt. Beecher reports the 16-year-old Daly City boy allegedly passed several of the bad checks, using the name of his probation officer, James Howell, as the signature.

Sheriff deputies said the Lomita Park boy admitted buying two "shots" of heroin and marihuana with the proceeds from the checks. The two others have admitted nothing.

Although two Daly City youths are involved, Sgt. Beecher said police believe none of the narcotics were purchased in Daly City. He said two known San Francisco heroin "pushers" were now being investigated, and the boys had made their purchases of drugs in San Francisco.

Long Search

The arrests were the outcome of a concerted investigation into narcotics and heroin and marijuna activities in the county instigated two months ago by the district attorney's office.

Each of the cities, including Daly City, in north San Mateo county has assigned personnel to the investigation of drug activities.

The 19-year-old and 18-year-old are now being held in the South San Francisco jail, charged with four counts of issuing fictitious

Save A Soldier's Life.. Donate Blood Tuesday

Will you save a soldier's life . . . maybe the life of a brother, friend or relative?

Those who answer "yes," are requested to do more than merely sound off. They are asked to donate a pint of their blood next Tuesday, November 20.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Community Presbyterian Church on 87th street between 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. that day. It is hoped when it leaves, over 300 pints of blood will have been collected for the armed forces.

Sponsoring the Bloodmobile, and doing their share to reach this goal are the six Parent-Teacher associations of the Jefferson Elementary School district. Members of the six organizations have all pledged to give a pint of blood.

Too much stress cannot be placed on the need for the donation of everyone able—the need is great, and the need is NOW . . . in fact, so great is it that 55 per cents of all donations are being received from the armed forces, themselves.

IF you have eaten nothing but black coffee and fruit juice FOUR hours before donating.

IF you are between 18 and 61 years old. Bring a release from parents if under 21.

IF you weigh more than 115 lbs.

IF you have no history of tuberculosis, malaria (unless no recurrence within the last 5 years), ulcers, heart disease, jaundice, rheumatic fever.

IF you have not had a cold within the last 2 weeks.

IF six weeks have passed since an illness.

Blast To Open Brunswick St.

Dynamite Expert Says Some Jar Will Be Felt...But No Real Danger

(Editor's Note: Number of local residents at the Tuesday evening council meeting...seven.)

Some 100 pounds of dynamite are due to go off Friday afternoon in the H. H. Smith quarry, between Brunswick and Hillside Boulevard.

Permit for the blasting was granted the Bracato Paving Company by the city council at their regular meeting Tuesday night.

The dynamite will be employed to remove rock now standing in the way of the extension of Brunswick street through to Hillside boulevard.

Tentative Date

Friday is the tentative date of the first blast, with similar explosions due for Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. The hour has still to be set, although it will be after the O.L.P.H. school is vacated, somewhere between 3 and 5 p.m.

Mayor Paul Green said residents in the immediate area of the job will be notified of the day and exact time of the explosion.

A dynamite expert, queried at the Tuesday evening meeting, said about 100 pounds of dynamite would be used in two holes. This means about 125 sticks of the explosive for cut.

Slight Jar

"People living around the vicinity will feel a certain amount of jar, but there will be no real danger," the expert told the council.

Councilman Ed Mooney was quick to point out this was a routine manner, and "done every day" in other densely populated areas.

Mrs. Helen Berg, member of the audience, reminded the council that H. H. Smith had been sued three years ago for damage he allegedly caused by setting off a charge in the same quarry.

Insured

Mayor Green said this was true, but on the other hand "they had been blasting some 25 years there without any real complaint." Nevertheless, he said the city would be fully covered by insurance.

Meanwhile, by a vote of three to one, the council the same evening denied a building permit for construction of a dog and cat hospital on Junipero Serra boulevard near School street.

The decision followed a heated public debate three weeks ago. Dr. Martin Fremont of Los Altos had submitted the request for a permit.

Objections

Residents objecting to the structure had asserted it would be a nuisance. However, Dr. Fremont said it would be so constructed as to eliminate any possibility of noises or bad odors.

In the final tally, Councilman Ed Mooney was the only local official to favor the structure. Councilman A. J. Gaggero was not present, but Mayor Paul Green said he had stated he was opposed to the building.

When the vote was in, Mrs. Helen Cheatham, a member of the audience, requested the councilmen give their reasons for so voting. Mayor Green questioned the point of order of such a request, but, nevertheless, answered Mrs. Cheatham's quary.

Driver Pleads Not Guilty In Hit-Run Death

San Francisco Man Killed On Mission

Louis R. Kretelka, 26, of South San Francisco, has entered a plea of not guilty to a felony hit-run charge in which a man was killed here last Friday night.

Struck down and killed was Albert W. Cole, 57, of the Mission Bell Motel, 6483 Mission street. He was hit as he was crossing Mission street to his home about 5:10 p.m.

Kretelka was arrested, but only after a chase by a witness and a motorcycle officer.

In police court Wednesday, Kretelka maintained he was not aware of striking the man, and entered his not guilty plea. He was bound over to San Mateo superior court for trial.

Crossing

Police said the victim had alighted from a fellow worker's car, about 200 feet north of the cross-walk, and was hit crossing the street.

Several people witnessed the accident, and when Kretelka allegedly failed to stop, John Klingler, 700 Niantic avenue, gave chase in his car.

Two More Fined For Dumping Rubbish

Continuing the campaign to keep Thornton Beach clean of rubbish, Judge W. J. Sweeney Wednesday "cleaned" tow violators of the dumping law of $25 each.

Fined were: Bosco Achille, 127 Hillcrest Drive; Alfred G. Rogers, 790 Madrid street, San Francisco.

Judge Sweeney said he would continue to level heavy fines, until "people wake up to the dumping law."

Civilian Defense Meeting Slated

City To Set Up New Organization

Setting the local civilian defense program into motion three city officials will conduct a public meeting for that purpose next week.

Date of the meeting, to be held in City Hall, has not yet been set. However, it will be announced in The Record, which will be out a day early next week.

Conducting the conclave will be Mayor Paul Green, Frank Blum, and Dan Andersen, city administrator.

Time Set

"We hope to draw up suitable plans to put a local civilian defense program into operation here within the next 90 days," Andersen said.

He pointed out that such a program is not only useful in case of attack, but is also an every day answer to any other type of disaster which can not be met by existing facilities.

The meeting was set following a conference, held last week, of northern California city officials. Andersen attended the conference, and reports he learned many things which will be of use in the local program.

"BLESS ME, MRS. WRAGG, THE BLIGHTER'S DEAD." At any rate Basil Beeson, as Sir Charles, is doing a good job of resembling morgue merchandise. But don't be alarmed; it is all part of the annual Jefferson high school play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," to be produced this Friday and Saturday, November 15-16, at the high school. Shirley Rasor, left, is Lady Beatrice while Shania Crosson, right, is Mrs. Wragg.

"Murder" Is Topic Of Interest For Jefferson High School Student Actors

Jefferson high school's annual play will go on stage tonight, November 15, and tomorrow evening.

This year the youthful actors will put on "A Murder Has Been Arranged," a mystery play famous for its thrills and chills.

Tickets for the play are on sale at Lee's Pharmacy, Daly City; The Anchor Drug, Colma; and at Jefferson high school.

Besides being a play of absorbing interest, "A Murder Has Been Arranged" is blessed with that rare and precious quality known as originality. Never has there been a play quite like it—never have

Becker Appointed Colma City Judge

Christmas Party Plans Approved

At a regular meeting Wednesday morning, the Colma City Council approved Mayor Jack Price's appointment of James Hally, of San Francisco, as Colma city attorney, and the appointment of Charles Becker of Westlake, as Colma city judge. Both appointments will be effective January 1, 1952.

The appointments were made necessary because of the resignation last month of J. Hal Cowan, former city attorney. James Hally is the present city judge and his appointment to the position of city attorney creates the second vacancy.

The council also approved plans for a Christmas party for the children of Colma sometime in December. On the committee in charge of this event are Chief of Police Ryan, Assistant Clerk Inez Fitzgerald and City Clerk E. Weisenberger.

Bookie Front

Poolroom Operator Buys Stamp

Daly City bookies this week were having none of the new federal regulations concerning their occupation, but things were different down in San Bruno.

A San Bruno poolroom operator, Wednesday, purchased the first federal occupation gambling tax stamp in the county. He did this to comply with the new federal law which requires bookies to buy the stamp, and pay 10 per cent of their gross to Uncle Sam's tax collectors.

He is Joseph Sammut, Jr., operator of the famed "Artichoke Joe's" at 676 San Mateo avenue in San Bruno. He was convicted of bookmaking at the San Bruno bar and pool room in 1949, and is the son of "Artichoke Joe" Sammut, notorious peninsula and San Francisco bookie.

Investigation

District Attorney Louis B. Dematteis, a few hours after Sammut had purchased the stamp, said his office would investigate the San Bruno man's activity. He added: "As far as we are concerned the intent has manifested itself before any action."

Dematteis said the bar has been under observation for several months, and as far as his investigators have been able to determine, it is not now operating as a bookie joint.

Future Stake

Other county law enforcement officers speculated Sammut is investing for "future operations."

Taking a different view of the case, San Bruno's Police Chief William Maher said Sammut had purchased the stamp as a "probable publicity gag."

"Artichoke Joe's" was the object of a raid in 1949, after which Sammut pleaded guilty to bookmaking and was fined $500.

Meanwhile, Dematteis reported this week that his office would "cooperate in any reasonable way" with the drive of federal tax officials to ferret out known bookies.

Nose Count

The assistance of the Daly City police, and other law enforcement agencies, will be sought in the nose counting of bookies in San Mateo county, Charles F. Masarik, Jr., said today. He said he will ask for the names of known gambling operators.

"Our check is to determine what gives with men who have been known gamblers, bookies and lottery operators for some time.

Bookies who are still operating have until November 30 to comply with the new federal gambling tax regulation.

Maximum penalty for operating without the stamp is a $10,000 fine and five years imprisonment.

Soldier Writes

Mrs. Ellis Bergren, of 721 Laurel avenue, Burlingame, read and reread a letter from her soldier son, Donald R. Fay, in Korea, then perturbed in thought, she went to the San Mateo County Blood Bank.

"I want to again become a blood donor," she told a bank official and held out the letter in explanation. Pfc. Fay of the Marine Corps who had just returned to duty after four months in a hospital in Japan, recovering from battle wounds, wrote:

"We all wonder over here if the people at home know how serious this 'Police action' is. Maybe the papers have mentioned the fact already, but if not, I'll let you know now that if we have as many casualties in the near future as we did before, the death rate of our wounded will soar because of lack of blood plasma. The corpsmen are already worried. Sure hope the American people will awaken to the realization that men are fighting and dying over here. The Japanese are helping us more than the people at home in many ways. We do need Blood Plasma."

Kretelka, when asked why he did not stop, told police he was trying to pull to the side of the road when the officer chased him. The South City man's automobile was halted about one-half mile from the accident site.

While doctors were giving Cole emergency treatment at the Junipero Serra hospital, he died. He suffered fractured skull, multiple fractures of both legs and cuts and bruises.

Cole was an employe of the W. R. Ames company of San Francisco, and is survived by a wife, a son, and a daughter.

Still Underway

Authorities say the investigation is still underway, and they report having turned up "scores" of suspected narcotics addicts in Daly City and northern San Mateo county.

However, with the arrest of the three youths, police believe they have spelled the "beginning of the end" for the combination bad check-dope ring.

Majority

The mayor said he had opposed the hospital because this seemed to be the "will of the majority." Councilman Jim Kennedy noted he believed the hospital would be a nuisance, as the residents had asserted, and this opinion was born out by Councilman Fred Bertetta.

Councilman Mooney, on the other hand, said he could see no reason why the permit should not be granted.

More Business

Other business before the council included:

1. Donating $50 to the Old Glory Post, VFW, for their annual veterans party at the Palo Alto Veterans Hospital. A similar sum was donated the Community Chest.

2. Setting December 10 for a public hearing on the proposal to vacate certain sections of Mission Street. This will mean several residents will be "given" several feet of property on Mission which the city no longer needs for streets.

3. Mrs. Cheatham requested the city help to keep the sidewalks clean around the new Westlake school. Mayor Green said the city would do what it could, but the Jefferson Elementary School Board was responsible for such work.

4. Ralph Larsen Co. was given a $28,324 partial payment for work on the Community Center Building.

There are still openings in the ceramics class at Balboa Adult School, Onondaga and Cayuga avenues, Robert F. Gray, principal, announced today. This class is under an experience instructor, with commercial experience in the field, and offers a complete course in the field of ceramics.

This course is offered each Monday and Wednesday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m. There is no tuition charge.

The New Look

Peter Venturino Announces Showing Of New 1952 Packard This Saturday

The new line of 1952 Packards will be on display this Saturday, November 17, at Peter Venturino's show room at 5975 Mission street.

"These 1952 Packards feature sparkling interiors plus a unique first in brake design, the new Packard Easamatic Power Brakes . . . unlike any other in the industry," Venturino said.

Venturino added, "The 1952 Packard line, 'fashion-keyed' by Dorothy Draper, internationally-famous decorator and color stylist, contains more than 70 mechanical changes and improvements — all engineered for improved riding, driving and quieter operation, together with high-styled new upholsteries."

Effortless

Highlight of the 1952 Packard is the availability of Easamatic Power Brakes, which makes brake application "almost as effortless as pressing the accellerator pedal," he stated.

Packard's new Easamatic Power Brakes, offered as optional equipment on all models, reduce pedal pressure an average of 40 per cent while the time required to move the toe from the accelerator to the new treadle-type unit is cut an average of 29 per cent.

"These reductions," Venturino said, "are translated into faster, safer stops, as continued evidence of Packard's desire to manufacture an automobile in accordance with today's traffic conditions."

Brilliant New Hues

In addition, Venturino pointed out that the easier operation of the new power brakes was another step toward the automatic car, first advanced through the introduction of Ultramatic Drive, Packard's automatic transmission, which has undergone extensive refinements for 1952.

Another highlight of the new Packards, Venturino said, is the color treatment as fashion-keyed by Mrs. Draper. New hues are offered, with emphasis on colorful two-tone combinations.

Matching the heightened exterior color trends touched by Mrs. Draper's artistic good taste, are the equally brilliant interiors of all models, making use of lively-colored fabrics and genuine leather with contrasting stripes.

Conserves Material

Venturino said, "Packard, during this national emergency is also doing everything possible to conserve critical materials" and offered two examples:

The 1952 Packard features a larger cooling fan, which makes possible a smaller radiator core, and thereby, saves valuable copper, and, adoption of a nylon speedometer gear in Ultramatic Drive to conserve on brass. The new nylon gear, according to Packard's research group, actually has longer life than if made from critical metal.

He said that production of the new line of Packards during the next year would be governed entirely by government regulations and the availability of materials.

Playing the roles of Sir Charles and Lady Beatrice Jasper are Basil Beeson and Shirley Rasor, while Ronald Christensen will take the part of Maurice Mullins. The part of a young American, James North, will be played by Frank Garcia and Janice Sproule will take the role of Miss Groze, Sir Charles' very efficient secretary. Also in Sir Charles' service as cook is Mrs. Wragg who will be played by Shaula Crosson and as band leader for this dinner party is Mr. Cavendish who will be played by Ronald Harris. The part of Mrs. Arthur, a very domineering woman and Lady Beatrice's mother, will be taken by Sharon Girard. The dumb woman who appears to fulfill the legend of the St. James Theatre will be played by Adele Hansen.

The public is urged to attend on Thursday night since the students are being given a special rate on Friday night.

COMMUNITY CENTER LURES YOUNG PITCHER

What is feared by the Daly City Recreation department to be the forerunner of a lot of trouble in connection with the Community Center building's windows took place Tuesday afternoon.

A small boy taking careful aim with a milk bottle just narrowly missed sending it through one of the large plate glass windows of the structure. He was caught by the night watchman, Mr. Todd, who notified Daly City police.

Although the child was severely scolded by his parents, and as far as he is concerned this incident ended there, apprehension is current that the aim of others in throwing things at these windows may not be this bad.

68% CHEST QUOTA REACHED HERE

Encouraging report on the results of the Daly City-Colma Community chest drive was made today by Jack Price, campaign manager.

Price stated that 68% of the quota of $9,550 for this area has been collected. The drive will go on until the entire amount has been raised.

The Daly City-Colma area includes the districts of Westlake, Broadmoor and Garden Village and workers will continue active in this entire territory.

Thief Steals Light From Automobile

A thief who needed an automobile parking light helped himself to that article on the car belonging to Mrs. Margaret Lynch, 6458 Mission street.

Mrs. Lynch reported to Daly City police that this light was taken from her car sometime during last Thursday night while the vehicle was in a parking lot on Hillside boulevard.

Name of the city of Lawndale was changed to Colma ten years ago this week.

The city held an election on November 17, 1951 and the results of the vote showed that the residents favored the change. The city council of Lawndale had calied the election on a petition of a number of Lawndale residents.

To quote from The Record of November 19, 1941, this decision "will mean the eventual clarifying of the names for the south end of Daly City and the area previously called 'Lawndale.' Much of what is commonly called Colma is in reality part of Daly City.

"Before the incorporation of Lawndale took place, the city was part of Colma, one of the oldest towns in San Mateo county. Since that time the original Colma has been incorporated into Daly City. The new Colma, erstwhile Lawndale originated from an association of ten cemeteries in 1923.

"During the following year, the cemetery area, by means of the Associated Cemeteries, decided upon incorporating the cemetery area for the betterment of all members, and on August 11, 1924, it was officially incorporated into the town of Lawndale.

"The name of Colma will now be filed with the Secretary of State of the United States, and the city will officially become Colma."

OBITUARY

BYRON K. STREETER

Byron K. Streeter, 61, of 125 Hillside boulevard, died following a heart attack, November 1.

Funeral services were conducted at Halsted & Co. funeral directors on November 3, with Crocker Lodge of Daly City conducting the Masonic ritual. Interment was at Olivet cemetery where further Masonic services were held.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ella Streeter; a son, Byron Fred Streeter and a grandson, Robert Dennis Streeter, of San Francisco.

A long time resident of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Streeter had resided in Daly City for two years. He was a retired post office clerk.

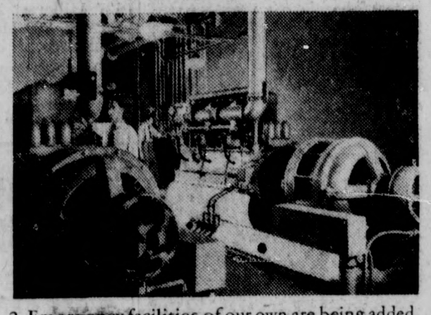
UNITING THE DEFENSE OF THE UNITED STATES

How we've geared the telephone system to meet today's emergency

1. How fast can we spread the word? Since the days of Paul Revere, the nation's strength in times of crisis has depended on swift, reliable communications. Today, the telephone is at work helping our military men organize their forces...at work saving minutes and hours and days in defense production plants... at work neatly everywhere uniting the strength of our millions of people.



2. Emergency facilities of our own are being added, too. Like this standby generator which can produce our own electricity in case of power line failure. Special plans have been made to rush "telephone task forces" of men and materials into strategic areas, if need be. In every way possible, we're making sure the calls keep going through...the calls which mean so much to our nation.

3. Since Pearl Harbor, we've put well over a billion dollars into telephone facilities in the Pacific West. We've made many, many technical improvements to speed and extend the service. The result: A telephone system far stronger than ever, doubled in size. We could do it because, over the years, we've had the financial strength to attract the investors' savings we must have to pay expansion costs. And with financial strength in the future, we can continue to build our ability to serve you and our nation.

Civilian Defense: A Permanent Need

It is slow work getting people interested in civilian defense, but the city is going to have a try at it again next week.

Not that the city has been overactive in this direction, although some paper work has been filed away for future reference, but the ever increasing tense world situation seems to have convinced at least a few local officials that civilian defense is a matter well worth looking into.

The problem now is to convince the residents of the need for such an organization.

To date this "selling" campaign, when tried, has flopped. Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi reports only two persons saw fit to volunteer for auxiliary police duty. Similar poor reports have come from other city officers interested in the civilian defense problem.

However, any veteran of the last war who had the opportunity to see what bombs (and not A-bombs, at that) can do to a city, should have some conception of the necessity of pre-war planning. Not that we contemplate a war, but, then, neither did Europe in that fall of 1939.

The point most of us refuse to believe is that dropping a bomb on this area is almost as simple for the enemy as shooting a political prisoner in the heart of their capital. Distance no longer means protection.

And this isn't an emergency which will necessarily be over tomorrow. It will continue for a good many years. Let us be prepared.

We sincerely hope more people, including the city officials, will recognize the problem and take action, while positive preventive action is still possible.

Red Hot Election Due In April!

Although the city elections are still many months away, the rumbling around city hall is a sure sign of what promises to be one of the hottest contests here in many years.

There will be two council seats open in the April election. Councilman Ed Mooney has indicated he will not seek re-election. Councilman Fred Bertetta is remaining mum, but his friends believe he will throw his hat in the ring.

To date no local resident has officially said he will seek a spot on the council. However, it is no secret that there will be many a contender for the positions, including possibly a local insurance man, and an official of the Westlake Property Owners Association.

During the past two years the council has worked almost too harmoniously, at least in open meetings. We recall only two or three dissenting votes on any issue over those years.

This is not meant as a criticism, but rather as a trend in local city affairs, which has seen most of the real debate going on at caucus meetings instead of before the public. This may, or may not be a healthy situation.

And of course the council is perhaps justified in this type of operation, especially as the public seems to show little or no interest in city business.

At any rate, the relatively "harmonious five" will face a real test in April when chances are several dissenters will seek a voice amongst their ranks.

It is any man's guess now, but look for some red hot campaigning early next year.

Westlake Is Part Of Daly City

While Westlake is an integral part of Daly City, at least on the maps, there is an increasing feeling among local residents that it represents a district separate, and complete unto itself.

The Record, through a complete coverage of activities in Westlake has done its best to break down this attitude...to make Westlake residents feel they have a real stake in the future of Daly City. The residents of that district, we are sure, feel that way themselves. However, the other day we met one new Westlake home owner who believed he was in San Francisco.

As for those living on the east side of Junipero Serra Boulevard, they too often give the impression that Westlake is another city, and fail to comprehend the real importance of that district to the future of Daly City.

There are, we suppose, several solutions to this problem; but one of the better ones presented itself this week with the opening of Knowles Avenue. This now gives residents a direct route to and from the heart of Daly City to the Westlake area.

We hope this direct route will afford local residents a better chance to get acquainted.

It is time, too, that we stopped referring to Westlake as such...let's call it simply, Daly City.

The Signs Are Behind The Times

In spite of the 1950 census, which showed a population of 15,000 here, the sign boards which mark the boundaries of Daly City still brag of a population of only 11,000.

We grant this may be a trifling matter, but an expanding community should show more interest in advertising its growth. We are surprised the city fathers have not noticed this discrepancy, and brought it to the attention of state officials who are responsible for the signs.

We hope the city does not have to wait for the 1960 census to have the signs catch up with the tally of 1950.

As a matter of fact, why can't the city do something about the signs without waiting for the state?

Let us inform the world that Daly City is no longer a village, but a growing, modern community.

Up with the new signs.

Teen-Agers In Trouble

It isn't always the underprivileged youngster who gets into trouble. Nor are slum conditions, broken homes and "delinquent parents" the sole causes of juvenile law breaking.

A few weeks ago when three teen-age Massachussetts girls calmly walked away with $18,000 of someone else's money and spent several days in New York throwing it, and themselves, around, they gave further evidence that the well privileged as well as the underprivileged get into trouble on occasions. These girls came from substantial homes. Their parents evidently tried to give them reasonable advantages but also imposed what were intended to be wise safeguards. The girls resented having to be home at 10 o'clock at night and not being allowed to smoke. These were factors leading up to their escapades.

What's the answer?—to let kids do whatever they please and never cross them? Hardly. No one has a pet solution. In general, however, if youngsters are shown the importance of spiritual values in life they are less likely to go off on a tangent. But they must be shown by example. This means that parents themselves must learn to appreciate spiritual values. Strict discipline on the one hand or overindulgence on the other, fall short of what is needed; whereas a concept of life as something more than either a dull routine or an incessant round of entertainment provides a sounder balance.

Even this isn't the whole answer, but it helps.

They Even Have The First Word

There was nothing extraordinary about the baby born last week in Hanford to Mrs. Beatrice Avilez, except that it began having its say about matters two months before it was born. The doctor reported he could hear the infant squalling from five feet away at that time. He even had a recording of the wails made to confound possible skeptics.

Needless to say, the baby turned out to be a girl. The sex even insists on having the first word!

WARM-UP TIME

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

Santa's faulty time schedule, his apparent desire to leave the north pole a week earlier each year, is fast driving a wedge between us and the benevolent spirit of Christmas.

Time was when the kid's knight errant didn't put in an appearance until Christmas day. Thanks to modern transportation, and streamlined advertising, Santa seems to hit town a week earlier every year. It won't be long now until he's making social calls in June.

Downtown San Francisco already has bearded faces staring from scores of windows, with the exception of one large mart where an inspired decorator called out the monkeys to impart the spirit of the holidays. His symbolism leaves little to be desired, especially as to the real roll of the buyer in the scheme of Christmas shopping.

Purpose

Not that we are opposed to Santa Claus. Let us go on record in favor of putting up with the old charlatan for a good many more years. He fulfills a purpose, we suppose, if nothing more than the joy of putting something over on an unsuspecting kid.

But we do raise our voice against the business men who are setting him up in windows two months before Christmas. Like every quack, the novelty of Santa's act depends on a certain amount of mystery and rarity. Bringing him to town a full two moons before the great day gives most of us a well deserved headache. His act is so stagnant by December 25 that the blooded taxpayer would prefer skipping the whole performance.

"Necessity," preach the prophets of Christmas in November. They assert this move increases business and is better for the general welfare of the nation.

Quibble

Who are we to quibble with economics? Nevertheless, isn't there an easier way of making a buck?

What we really object to, however, isn't so much Santa as it is Bing Crosby and the insipid melodies he croons during two months of pre-Christmas shopping. His bleating "White Christmas," when the sun is shining bright, should strike terror to the heart of a Turk. But the customer, a hearty fellow, doesn't seem to mind.

And amid all this mess, who remembers the real purpose of Christmas? Too few, we think, as witnessed by the fine state of men too intent upon the material side of living to remember anything about the Man who was born December 25.

Pre-Christmas Call

Christmas Seal Sale Opens Here Monday; All Asked To Assist TB Association

"Santa Claus will pay a pre-Christmas call on thousands of residents of San Mateo County Monday, November 19, as the 1951 Christmas Seal Sale begins," Judge Edmund Scott, county chairman of the drive, announced today.

"Over 1,500,000 Christmas Seals are now in the mail for delivery next week," he stated and "Sale of these Christmas Seals is the sole support of the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association which provides a year-around service of free chest x-rays, health education leaflets, motion pictures, and funds for rehabilitation, research and other activities."

Familiar Face

"The familiar face of Santa Claus on these Christmas Seals reminds me that Santa traditionally represents unselfish giving, which is the most appropriate symbol for the San Mateo Tuberculosis and Health Association.

"But" Judge Scott continued, "we think of Santa Claus only in connection with Christmas giving, where as the Association gives generously of its services the year round in the fight against tuberculosis in San Mateo county.

"Since the sale of Christmas Seals is the only source of income for the fine work of the Association, I want to urge everyone to buy and use Christmas Seals."

The 45th Annual Christmas Seal Sale is nationwide. Each county in each state handles its own drive. The Seal Sale in San Mate ocounty is directed by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 115 S. Ellsworth avenue, San Mateo, Mary Helen Williamson, executive secretary.

LOCAL CHILD LOCKS SELF IN BATHROOM

You often hear about children locking themselves in the bathroom but this circumstance was no hearsay to a local woman.

Late Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Bucher of 80 Forest Grove Drive, contacted Daly City police for help in rescuing her three-year old daughter who had locked herself inside the Bucher bathroom.

Officer Munday responded to her call. With the assistance of special officer Phillips who had a pass key, they released the little girl from her temporary prison.

There is enough water in Lake Tahoe to cover the State of Texas to a depth of eight inches.

School Building Subject Of Meet

"New School Construction" will be the subject of Dr. N. L. Englehardt, guest speaker at the next regular meeting of Sheridan PTA, to be held in the school auditorium on November 20 at 1 p.m.

A discussion on Ocean View Playground led by the Ocean View Park Director will follow.

Committees to be featured at the meeting are School Education and Recreation. A special music program is also planned.

Small children will be cared for by a competent person and refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Hayward Bridge Fare Reduction Asked By Chamber

An increase in use of the San Mateo-Hayward Bay bridge has initiated a move by the Burlingame chamber of commerce, seeking a reduction on the toll charge from 35 cents to 25 cents.

One reason for the action, headed by Thomas F. McGuigan, president of the chamber of commerce, is to place the local bridge on a competitive basis with the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge.

Meanwhile, trucking interests are seeking and equalized toll charge over the Dumbarton bridge with that of the San Mateo-Hayward span.

Both requests may be placed on the agenda of the California toll bridge authority meeting scheduled for November 28 at Sacramento.

Edwin K. Levy, San Mateo-Hayward bridge engineer, indicated, that there has ben an approximate 15% traffic increase since the state took over, and reduced the fare from 50 cents to 35 cents.

Unofficial figures for October of this year show that 176,000 vehicles used the bridge, compared to 156,000 for the same period last year.

Should the traffic increase as much as 50%, if a reduced fare would produce such an increase, Levy announced that no extra personnel would be needed. The present compliment could handle the task, he stated.

Thief Steals Gas From Parked Truck

A thief with small awareness of service stations visited the vicinity of R. E. Pratt, 672 Niantic avenue, early Monday morning.

According to Pratt's statement to Daly City police, gasoline was stolen from the truck belonging to a Los Angeles company which was parked in front of his house.

New Court System

Becker Explains Reorganization

A complete exlanation of the city and county court reorganization plan was given by Charles Becker, Westlake attorney, at the regular meeting of the North Cities Council last Thursday evening.

Following is his interpretation of the plan which goes into effect next year, and will eliminate the city court in Daly City:

"The purpose of this court reorganization is twofold; first, to give the people a better court with more highly qualified judges, and second to save the taxpayers money. At the present time, in San Mateo county, there are 13 city courts with 13 city judges, all appointed by their respective city councils, and five justice courts with five justices of the peace, all holding sessions on the average of a half day per week.

"Under the new municipal court system there will be four full time courts, in which the judge must hold full time sessions and will not be allowed to engage in any private practice or other personal business as at the present time.

"There will be one judge for the South San Francisco-Daly City district; one for the San Mateo-Burlingame district; and two judges for the Redwood City-San Carlos district.

Six-Year Term

"The judges of these new courts will hold office for a term of six years and must be elected by the people at the general election in 1952. To qualify for election to this bench, the judge must reside in the district in which he is to serve, and must have been admitted to the practice of law for at least five years.

"Of the four city judges serving the county's northern cities, by appointment of their city councils, according to a 1947 survey, none of them were attorneys, leaving the justice of the peace at that time as the only qualified lawyer on the bench.

"Today, in the five courts serving the district, two judges are not lawyers; one has been a lawyer for a number of years; one has been a lawyer for 2½ years, and one has been a lawyer for 5½ years. While there is no doubt that all of the men acting in a judicial capacity, be they lawyer or not, are men of the highest integrity and unquestionable reputation, nevertheless, due to the highly technical state of the law at the present time, and with the continuing challenges to the people's freedoms, necessity requires experience and training to cope with present legal problems.

"Therefore, under the new municipal court system, the judges must be elected by the people, and those presently serving who are qualified as well as any other interested qualified candidates may seek election to these positions. The voters of the individual districts will vote for the judge of their particular district.

Full Time

"Under the present court system, the city judges hear primarily traffic violations, some minor criminal charges and very little civil matters, limiting those to small claims. The justice of the peace court has jurisdiction to hear misdeameanor charges and civil matters that do not involve more than $1000. All other cases must be taken to the superior court at Redwood City.

"Under the new system, the judge sitting full time, will have jurisdiction in criminal misdemeanors and civil cases where demand or value of property involved amount to $3000; in actions for the dissolution of partnerships where the total assets do not exceed $3000; to cancel or rescind a contract up to $3000, or to revise such contracts; in all proceedings for forcible entry or forcible or unlawful detainer of premises where the rental value is up to $300 per month, and where the whole amount of damages is not more than $3000; in all actions to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property, where the amount of such liens is not more than $3000; in all actions to enforce and foreclose liens of mechanics, materialmen, artisans, laborers, and all other persons to whom liens are given where the amount of such liens is not more than $300; to issue temporary restraining orders and preliminary injunctions, to take accounts and to appoint receivers where necessary to preserve the property or rights of any party to an action.

New Court

"Certainly here is a new court which can render a real service to the people and be within convenient location of the people which it is intended to serve.

"Financially, the new court system is intended to save the taxpayer's money and at the same time give them more for their dollar. According to figures obtained from a 1949-1950 survey, the 13 city judges throughout the county received a total compensation of $27,125, for an average of $2,086 per year. The five justices of the peace received a total of $22,005, for an average of $4,401 per year, making a total compensation of $49,130, which figure is even greater today due to increases which have been given during the past two years.

"The compensation and expenses paid to city court clerks for the year 1949-1950 was $28,765 and the compensation and expenses of the township clerks was $63,289 for a total cost throughout the county of $92,055. Therefore, there was paid by the various cities and townships the sum of $141,185 for the operation of its lower courts for the year 1949-1950.

County Expense

"Under the new system, the entire cost for the operation of the municipal court system will be provided and paid for by the county, at no expense at all to the cities, and the total compensation of the four full-time judges will be $40,000 as against $49,130 (1949-1950), and the clerical salaries will be $59,240 as against $92,055 (1949-1950) for a total over-all saving of $41,945.

CITY DRIVING

Very little time can be saved by speeding in city traffic. Drive at moderate speeds and obey the traffice laws. The chances are you will get to your destination as soon as the person who speeds, says the California State Automobile Association.

The Civic Auditorium at San Francisco contains one of the largest pipe organs ever constructed.

Anniversary Festival Coming Next Friday

The Grace Presbyterian Church Women's council is ready for the big Anniversary Festival which is in progress now. Doors open today (November 16) at 10 a.m.

The booths are all filled with articles suitable for gifts.

The young people are sponsoring a food sale, as well as the food sale by the women, throughout the day and evening.

The White Elephant table is a real bargain spot. Mostly new items. Don't miss the country store.

The festival would not be complete without Alice's Grab Bag. She will guide your hand.

Another center of attraction is the Anniversary Cake, presided over by Mrs. E. Lindstrom.

Movies will be held for the children throughout the afternoon and evening.

A cafeteria luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Mildred Anker and Mrs. Leslie Stierl in charge.

The birthday turkey dinner and all the trimmings will be served beginning at 5 p.m. until all are served.

Bayshore PTA Honors Father

97 Residents Attend Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Bayshore PTA was held November 7, at 8 p.m. in the Bayshore school auditorium.

Mrs. C. Perkowski, president, opened the meeting by greeting the audience of 97 members and guests including the fathers that were present to celebrate fathers' night.

Mrs. J. L. Simpson's Brownie Troop 44 led the pledge to the American and Brownie flags. Then they sang songs and dramatized "The Brownie and the Shoemaker."

Mrs. C. Seivert, instrumental music teacher, led the senior choral group for the presentation of three songs, "Harbor Lights," "Ah, Lovely Meadow," and "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

A dance was presented by Mrs. J. Airola's 4th grade followed by the 7th and 8th grades presenting two folk dances under Mrs. G. O'Grady's supervision.

Mrs. Lipman extended thanks to the members of the Bayshore PTA for their pledge of $200 toward the purchase of the grand piano. She then presented Mrs. S. A. Dalie, Jr., who honored us with a piano solo, DeBussey's "Storm," to express the tones of the piano.

Volunteers for blood donations were requested by Mrs. J. Dreyfuss.

Election of a new treasurer was held upon receipt of the resignation of Mrs. P. Dodds, treasurer. Mrs. A. Holt is the treasurer elect.

Mrs. N. Reynolds added a bit of humor to the program by reading an article entitled "What Is A Boy?"

The teachers were hostesses.

GEORGE PINGRY AND WIFE RETURN FROM THREE-WEEK TRIP

Following a three-week trip through the midwest and southwest, Mr. and Mrs. George Pingry returned to their Westlake home at 8 Cliffside Drive this week.

Mr. Pingry, accompanied by his wife, was a delegate at the American Association of State Highway Officials convention in Omaha, Nebraska. He represented the California State Highway Department of which he is an official.

On their return from the convention, the Pingrys visited Kansas City, St. Louis and sections of Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and the Carlsbad Canyons.

On the last leg of the trip they stopped in San Diego where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Karl Montey.

In addition to being active in Westlake affairs, Mr. Pingry is an official of the Westlake Property Owners Association, and chairman of the Daly City Recreation Commission.

Mothers' Club Bazaar Promises To Be Gala Event

Annual Affair Slated Dec. 2

Mrs. Francis Denning, president, received reports from the various chairmen at the last regular meeting of the OLPH Mothers' Club that indicate gaiety, as well as hard work, is the keynote in the plans formulating for the Mothers' Club Annual Bazaar, Sunday, December 2, in the school auditorium, 80 Wellington avenue.

It bids fair to be an outstanding event as Mrs. Leon Fellman takes over the refreshment committee to serve lunches and snacks all day long. Mrs. William Whalen will take charge of the grocery booth which will offer an array of many items for the Christmas menu.

The sewing booth, headed by Mrs. John Jordan, will be resplendent with many items high on the popularity list for Christmas giving and especially attractive because they are hand worked. Gift giving is a real delight when you have something as lovely as the beautifully hand painted dish towels which will give the kitchen rack a "new look." Also, among other gift items, are pillow cases that attain elegance by their deft embroidery and crocheted edges.

Clothes Drive For Koreans Ends This Week

Contributions Still Needed For Winter

By MRS. ARTHUR HEYDEN

With the early months of winter approaching, most of us here in America will talk and fuss about the discomforts of winter weather, but there are very few of us who have reason to fear winter as a deadly enemy.

But it could be otherwise, and it is otherwise for millions of ragged and homeless destitute men, women and little children who have been driven from their land and their homes by a vicious aggressor. Clothes have a habit of wearing out. Winter lasts a long time in Korea.

Therefore, may I urge Daly City residents, individually, and through their civic or welfare organizations, to help save lives in South Korea by contributing all the clothing they can possibly spare in this last week of the drive sponsored by Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholica Daughters of America.

Clothing most needed is as follows: trousers and overall, coats, dresses and skirts, caps and gloves, bath robes, socks and stockings, mittens and mufflers, skits and sweaters, blankets and bedding.

Outer clothing and underwear of all kinds and in all sizes: shoes (low heels) in all sizes and widths, for men, women and children.

Clothing chairman of Court St. Mary, Catholic Daughters of America, can be reached by calling PLaza 5-6325.

Clothes may be dropped off at: 231 Los Olivos Ave., Daly City post ofifce, Daly City theatre, PG&E, Colma post office, Serra Theatre, King's Market, Town & Country Food Center, Westlake, Godfrey's Ice Cream, Westlake, Gleason's Dress Shop, Fran's Beauty Nook, Mary's Dinette, Ice Cream Land, and Firehouse No. 2, Santa Barbara and Park Ave.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Two days ago I started out to take a bubble bath. But so far, the advertised "relaxing, rejuvenating and refreshing" benefits of "odeur de rose" have not been mine. It is still encased in its pink carton—waiting. Like me!

Two major difficulties have beset my path. These are Malcolm and Barbara. They cannot conceive of anyone wishing to have clear, undisputed and hour-long possession of the bathroom. No one but themselves, that is! And furthermore, don't I realize that the bathtub is the only decent place for such things as sailing boats or trying out water wheels and such? And what about their swimming practice?

"Take a quick shower, mother" they chorused "or use the washbasin. After all YOU just want to get clean, don't you?"

"No," I shouted, "I don't want to just get clean! I am clean! I want to feel relaxed and glamourous. Now will you leave me alone for one hour?"

"What's glamourous, mother?" asked Malcolm. "Can I have a peanut butter sandwich?"

"I'll do the dishes!" cried Barbara, her eyes full of housekeeping fervor.

Hot Bath

"Leave the dishes alone!" I called in desperation, "I need all the hot water in the tank and I mean all of it." But by then it was too late anyway. The telephone rang, the doorbell rang, and the Jewel Tea man appeared with his basket."

"Why not bat them one?" asked one friend whose batting average is good enough for the Yankees. "You'll get your bath soon enough then, I betcha!" And I must admit that I have often toyed with the idea of becoming a good "batter." My reason for not taking it up seriously come from having weak wrists and what I like to think of as being an "intellectual" approach. Even to children. Needless to say, this causes much headshaking and worry amongst my friends.

"Get up earlier in the morning," came from another acquaintance, "or stay up later at night. That's a wonderful time for peace and privacy—even for bubble baths. Really!? But this lady is obviously unacquainted with my schedule and my motives for glamous bathing.

Ice Breaking

Who wants to break the ice in the tub at five in the morning? Who wants to stay up later than T.V.? Also, if no one is around to see the results—how will I know whether this glamour game is worth the candle. Of course, the results might still be there when I arise for a quick grab at my coffee cup, but that is something to be tested in private first! This "odeur" stuff is too expensive to fool around with.

Come to think of it, maybe I should use the fashion approach on the children. Barbara at least, would do almost anything to see me wear a dress. The last time I put one on—with shoes, too, she practically whistled "Boy, you look good. Sort of, well, like a lady!" At which I bowed graciously and went back to wearing slacks.

This slack wearing is partly due to poor circulation. The other part is the high price of nylons. Still, if wearing a dress will get me that hour in the bathroom—and "odeur de rose" does what it says it will do—then this lady business will come more to the fore in my life. I dare not think what might happen if I took the adds about hormone cream to heart or started using some of these new fangled undercoats and overcoats for my complexion. One thing at a time, I say. One thing at a time!

Farm Out

And perhaps Malcolm can be farmed out for the afternoon or something similar. This is because he is not so suseptible to women. Unless they happen to be cooking, he can certainly keep his enthusiasm within bounds. That is to say he looks up from his toy road grader after being asked "Doesn't mommy look pretty? How do you like my dress?" and grunts "Looks nice! What is that safety pin there for?" and returns to the road grader. But since he is only five years old I am hoping he will outgrow this approach to females.

The main thing, I feel, is not to get discouraged. I shall bide my time. Children change and grow every day and sooner or later my hour will come. I shall blossom like the rose—even if I have to do it one foot at a time. In the washbasin!

Thanksgiving Services

17th District C.C.P.T.

Annual District Press and Publicity Luncheon Slated For Jeff High January 17

Representatives of fifty PTAs from San Mateo county attended a dual workshop for Founders day and publicity chairmen in Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers on Friday, November 9.

Rooms of the commander's cottage at the Coyote Point campus of the Junior college housed the morning sessions.

Mrs. Jesse H. Parker of Vallejo, state chairman for programs and Founders day, keynoted the conference when she declared, "As PTA spreads it becomes increasingly important and powerful, while its prestige is more to be respected. Founders day ceremonies can best provide the occasion for good PTA public relations."

District leaders for the Founders day session were Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, president, Mrs. J. B. Mills and Mrs. Erwin Schmidt of San Bruno, directors of organization and public welfare, and Mrs. Edward Styskel of Burlingame, financial secretary. Chairmen directing the publicity workshop were Mrs. Arne Hersom of Belmont, publicity and printing, Mrs. Wm. H. Ritchie of San Carlos, pres publicity assistant, and Mrs. A. W. Lauffenburger of Daly City, newsette editor.

Items on well planned programs for Founders day stressed by Mrs. Parker included the roll call of past presidents with brief unit histories; plays, pageants or skits on the birthday of PTA February 17, 1897; especially attractive business meetings kept to a minimum; and presentation of honorary life memberships to worthy community citizens. Five volunteers from the audience demonstrated a play reading technique which was recommended for use of the reference material on display.

Publicity procedure questions were answered on press publicity and news photographs, mechanics of newsette duplicating and editing, and publicity record books requirements. Unit chairmen present were reminded of the annual district press and publicity luncheon, which will be held on January 17, 1952, at Jefferson Union high school in Daly City.

Local Youngsters Given Opportunity To Win Memorial Ballet Scholarship

November 17 at 9:30 a.m. at Curran Theater in San Francisco, the 4th Annual Competition for Memorial Ballet Scholarships will be held.

Scholarships are available to both boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 15 years. Only the girls must have some knowledge of ballet but they may be the students of any ballet teacher.

This year a new section has been added to the competition for amateur chereographers! Ballet compositions, using not less than 2 and not more than 5 dancers, should be of approximately 10 minutes duration.

Since this is the only competition of its kind in the entire United States, all the stars of major ballet companies take personal interest in advancing its cause: to provide free training to those who are outstandingly talented in this field.

Ballet Theatre stars, Lucia Chase, Alicia Alonso, and Igor Youskevitch, will act as judges for both students and chereographic attempts and will award the scholarships valued at $100.00 each. Winners automatically become members of BALLET CELESTE, a company which performs throughout the year in various parts of the state.

Absolutely no charge is made in connection with the audition.

To obtain information or applications for either of both sections of the competition (please specify which), write to: 2160 Green St., San Francisco 23; or telephone JOrdan 7-3377 or GRaystone 4-3438.

MRS. CHAINE IS LUNCHEON GUEST

Mrs. Julia Chaine, 716 White street, Broadmoor, was feted at a luncheon Monday in commeration of her 83rd birthday anniversary. Hostess was Mrs. Leo Lemon who gave the luncheon at the Lemon home at 267 Los Olivos.

Besides the guest of honor and the hostess, others present were Mrs. Wesley James, Mrs. Pauline Samstag, Mrs. Fred Junker and Miss Joanne Shinazy.

A birthday cake and lovely presents comprised other features of the feting of the honored guest.

Young People Enjoy Turkey Dinner

The young people of the Grace Presbyterian Church enjoyed a turkey dinner at the church last Sunday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Hassett, sponsors, who are returning to take over work with the young people following a leave of absence.

Donald Dickson, Phyllis Blackburn, and Lorraine Bergstrom were the committee in charge of the arrangements.

There was a large attendance including the Pastor, Dr. William Harberts and Mrs. Harberts.

San Francisco PTA Members Visit Westlake Unit

Luncheon Given At Desmond Home

Members of various San Francisco PTA units were honor guests at an informal luncheon given on November 5 by Mrs. Albert L. Desmond at her home on Wilshire avenue.

The honored guests were Mrs. R. E. Dill, president Balboa high school PTA; Mrs. Leonard Le Rose, president James Lick junior high school PPTA; Mrs. M. J. Bellezza, Exceptional Child chairman 2nd district PTA; Mrs. Edmund Coussens, president Mission high school PTA; Mrs. H. F. Brown, Mrs. Harold Price, Mrs. George Eustace, Mrs. Richard Wellman, Mrs. Chris Ward, Mrs. Jack Green, Mrs. Mary Presby, Mrs. Jon Spangl, all of San Francisco.

Also present from the Westlake unit of the Parent-Teacher association were Mrs. Howard Dunbar, president, Mrs. Fred Kruse, vice president, Mrs. Charles Becker, Mrs. Harry Bosbery, Mrs. Fred La Souley and Mrs. George Bozzini.

Following the luncheon the ladies spent the afternoon sewing for the Mission high school bazaar which was held on November 8. All the guests unanimously agreed that the delicious repast served by Mrs. Desmond was not conducive to keeping a slim waistline.

AUXILIARY WILL HOLD DINNER

To raise funds for their Americanism program, members of the Broadmoor American Legion auxiliary Unit No. 824 will host a ham and turkey dinner, Saturday night at 6:30, at the Colma Community center on Dunk street.

Tickets for the dinner may be reserved by calling Mrs. Peggy Merchant at PLaza 5-1223.

The auxiliary Americanism program, a national project, takes the form of an essay contest for grammar and high school students. The program will take place sometime in the Spring and complete details concerning it will be announced within the next few weeks.

A total of 1708 deaths in San Francisco in 1950 was attributed to cancer.

BOYS & GIRLS

Earn Extra Christmas Money

Dorothy Davis

Dear Dorothy:

I come from a large family and there were times when we hardly had enough to eat and there was never any money for anything extra like nice clothes. When I was in high school a nice boy invited me to a dance and to get money for a dress I took some money from the cash register of our neighborhood grocery store when the clerk wasn't looking. The first time was so easy that I tried this several times and then I got caught and was sent to reform school.

After I got out of reform school, I had an awful time trying to find work because I wasn't trained to do anything. Finally things got too tough and I stole again and was caught. This time I was sent to the state prison for women.

While I was in prison I was taught stenography and then when I got out, there was a big shortage of help and I was able to get a job right way. My employer was wonderful and kept my past a secret. I loved my job and was given more and more responsibility.

Then I met a man with whom I fell deeply in love. He loves me, too, and we are planning to be married. He has a very responsible position and if it came out about my past it would hurt him. I have been afraid to tell him about my past, too, because I'm afraid he wouldn't ever want to see me again if he knew. This is the first chance in my life that I have ever had for real happiness. And I am so hungry and desperate for it that I'd chance getting married and not telling my fiance anything about my past. Then if he found out and left, I could always destroy myself. But, there is just one thing. He would be seriously hurt, too, and do I have the right to risk hurting him? I want this happiness so badly and yet I don't want to risk hurting him. What shall I do?

Desperate

* * *

Dear "Desperate":

Your first step out of your dilemna is for you to realize that you are in an extremely unbalanced emotional condition. The nightmare of your childhood and ado'escence combined with the excitement of falling in love is too tremendous for you to cope with reasonably and, therefore, you are driven to such extreme thoughts as the idea of doing away with yourself.

After you have obtained a more balanced state of mind, you will see that if you truly love this man you will not want to do anything that will hurt him. It is not his fault that the world will make him pay for your past mistakes.

Discuss the entire situation carefully with the man you love and let him be the one to decide whether or not to take a chance on marriage with you. If he decides against this step, do not blame him. Just keep in mind that he is a victim of the same public opinion that is persecuting you.

Although it will be very hard to lose him, life offers many compensations. There are thousands of interests you can pursue as hobbies, and by losing yourself in one or more of them you will find solace for your broken heart. And who knows? Sooner or later another opportunity for romance may come your way. Your road will not be easy, but as time goes on, you will find that life will become much easier.

Dorothy

Dear Dorothy:

I know my problem may sound silly, but it's very real to me. I got married three months ago and my wife can't cook. Before I got married I always lived at home and while my mother wasn't the world's best cook, at least she could throw a meal together that wasn't too bad.

My wife has just graduated fro high school and I just work in a office and my salary isn't ver big. My wife doesn't work and think that having nothing to all day long that she could lear to cook decent meals. When complain about the canned jur she dishes out for me every nigh she begins to cry and says I don love her. And the next night it the same thing over again unt I'm nearly nuts. How ought I handle this mess?

A Young Husba

* * *

Dear "Young Husband":

Your wife is refusing to acce the responsibilities of marriag Even though she is hardly mo than a child, she took this serio step and, therefore, she mu learn that being married is mo than just an opportunity to idle and let someone else suppo her and assume all responsibili for her well-being.

You are too soft-hearted wi her. Her crying is merely t technique she employes to get free ride through life. Start b ing very firm with her. Let h cry all she wants to, but don't gi in any more. Insist that she lea how to cook and keep house.

Make her understand that y cannot carry the entire load of th marriage and if she really lov you, I'm sure that she will want help you as much as she can. S is so young that possibly she d not understand what a hardsh she was thrusting on you by h childish actions.

Dear Dorothy:

Several months ago my son wl is 22 eloped with a girl who I f was entirely the wrong person f him. He is employed as a cle in a department store and went night school studying to be lawyer. The girl also clerked the same store. But she is shallo and cares only for a good tim She always spent every cent s made for clothes and cosmetics.

I was so deeply hurt when n son brought her home as his wi that we quarreled bitterly and have not seen him since. I ha learned through friends that and his wife have already split u and I want him to come hor again. I learned too that becau of this girl's wanting to go o every night that he quit his nig school classes. These same frien told me that he still resents r attitude and that he thinks I wou gloat over him if he returned. H can I convince him that I want h to return home and continue studies solely for his own goo and that I have no wish at to make him feel responsible me for his mistakes?

Mrs. W. W.

* * *

Dear "Mrs. W. W.":

A casual approach toward wi ning back your son might sol your problem. Take your clos mutual friends into your con dence and have them plan soc events to which they invite bo you and your son. By meeting h this way from time to time y may be able to regain a frien footing with him without maki him feel that you are planning more permanent arrangement.

Remember that he is in a high emotional condition, not only b cause of his estrangement fr you but because of the failure his marriage and so do not be d turbed at anything he may say you at first. Treat any emotio al outburst on his part with ou ward calmness no matter how may make you feel inside.

Then as time begins to heal h wounds, his confidence in you w be building up at the same tim Therefore, he will eventually tu to you and you will be able help him resume his former l and take an interest in his form ambitions.

Do Boys Think?

THE FACT that schoolboys are apparently incapable of one minute's serious thought is apt to cost all those who love them very dear.

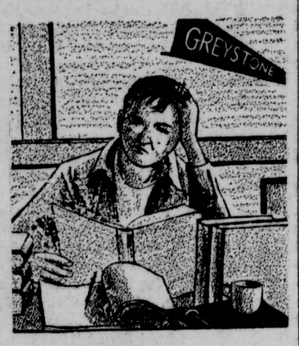
"You know how utterly unthinking boys are!" writes an agonized mother. "A boy who is destined to grow into a fine and responsible man could do something, in his schooldays, that was entirely inexplicable and entirely inexcusable—we all know that! If other boys are doing it, if there is a general careless impression that certain shortcuts to learning are practically taken for granted, isn't it excusable that they follow the fashion? No, not excusable, but something to be censured, and forgiven?

Another Chance?

"My husband," this letter goes on, "has a high standing in this community; we have always been proud of our one son. Our hearts and his sisters' hearts are crushed by this blow. John knew better than to do what he did; he'll never recover from the horror of this time of shame. But isn't he to have another chance?"

Well, it's my personal conviction that he should have that chance. Because honesty isn't natural, and self-protection is. Honesty is a rare plant of slow growth in human hearts; self-protection whether it be from income tax or speeding laws or innocent home gambling for a tenth of a cent, illicit liquor hidden somewhere, or a little speculation on a shady deal, is natural.

We are all sporadically on a high level of honor in some of our affairs, and we all have a blind side to other transactions that are not quite so admirable. I remember years ago the case of a young woman who played races, bought contraband liquor by the case, had divorced two men, lied her way cheerfully through a score of ticklish negotiations respecting an inheritance.



". . . hate study . . ."

She and I went to a rather pitiful little church bazaar one day during the last war, and as we looked at the display of aprons and cookies and pincushions Stella suddenly perceived that they were displayed upon a stretched American flag. With a cry of anguish she swept the entire stock upon the grassy dusty ground, clasped the flag to her breast and cried, "Shame upon you! Your country's colors!"

So the college student who does a stupid, unlawful thing is by no means marked for life as a cheat. Most college men and women do little real thinking. Girls get into idiotic, impecunious marriages, or worse, and scar their whole lives.

Nightmare

With boys this business of "finals" is an absolute nightmare. Instead of being ma ed on their weekly averages, and given constant reminders that they are falling below passing marks, they are left to the dangerous freedom of distractions and interruptions and amusements until the terrifying week that comes twice a year, the week of seminars, boning up, studying all night on black coffee and benzadrine, and attempting to stuff bewildered brains in a few days' time with a half-year of work.

A magazine picture sometime ago showed a smart-looking college boy and girl standing before a classroom doorway upon which was a notice that Professor Brown would postpone the finals in his course from today until the same hour tomorrow.

"Oh, Lord," says the boy in dismay, "do we have to remember all that stuff overnight?"

Funny, but true, too. Healthy young men hate study, especially when, as in so many of our school courses, it is study that they know full well will benefit them not one bit in the years to come. If credits upon fungus diseases of plants, the medieval theories of astrology, the Spartan wars or the Polyponesian languages are considered more easily won than credits for more practical courses, then our students flock to those classes.

"I took Portugese and celestial mathematics," said a fine middle-aged man to me, "each rated five points a week. I forgot 'em both the minute I left college."

Of course he did! How many presidents of shipping companies, great factories, how many successful doctors and dentists and real estate and insurance men, middle-aged, self-respecting, prosperous, were strong enough 30 years ago, not to have taken advantage of the peek or the scribbled hint that helped them through an examination on the subject of Brazil soil?

Nazarene Church Evangelists Held Over

Four more services will be held at the Grace Church of the Nazarene, 101 Vista Grande avenue, with Reverend and Mrs. Lawrence L. Vaughn in charge.

The Vaughns, who have been holding special services each evening, except Saturday, at the Nazarene Church since Wednesday, November 7, will hold their closing service on Sunday, November 18, at 7:45 p.m.

Reverend Vaughn, singer, musician and evangelist, has been preaching since the age of sixteen. He has pastored in Stanford and Bowling Green, Kentucky, Bowling Green being one of the largest churches in the Kentucky district. He has labored in the evangelistic field since 1944. During his stay in Daly City he has been ably assisted by his wife, who is a talented singer and accomplished musician.

A record crowd is expected to attend the 11 a.m. service on Sunday, November 18, which has been designated as "Rally Day." An invitation is extended to the public to attend, especially those who have no church home in the community.

Social Security Now Covers The Self Employed

Most self-employed people are now working under social security and are afforded the same benefits and protection that have long been enjoyed by employees in commerce and industry, according to Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo social security office.

Recent changes in the social security law provided for coverage of most of the self-employed beginning January 1, 1951. Not included are farm operators, doctors, lawyers, and certain other professional groups. These persons may be covered by other provisions of the law, however, if they are employees, or if, in addition to their regular occupation, they are in self-employment work covered by the law. For example—a lawyer who is also in the insurance business.

Social security field offices throughout the country are now receiving many inquiries concerning the reporting of self-employment income and the payment of tax.

Report

A self-employed person will report income for social security credit on a detachable portion of his final individual income tax return. The collector of internal revenue will forward this detached portion to the Social Security Administration where the income will be credited to the individual's account. Social security tax of 2½% of the self-employment income will be paid in full to the collector of internal revenue at the time of making the final income tax report. Only $3,600 of self-employment income is taxable for any one year.

Persons having net earnings from self-employment of less than $400 in a taxable year are not considered as self-employed for social security purposes and are not covered by the new law.

The self-employed person will make his first contribution in 1952 when he files his income tax return for 1951. Each person not having a social security account number will need one at that time. Field offices are now issuing account numbers to the self-employed and a last minute delay may be avoided by obtaining account numbers now. Application forms may be obtained at local post offices or your social security field office.

DEN JOTTINGS
By Louise Daniel

The wholesomeness and humor which comprises the personality of Dennis Day colors the film of "The Golden Girl" and makes it a movie of outstanding entertainment. Matching Day's performance in excellence are those by Mitzi Gaynor, Una Merkel and James Barton.

As we do not know anything about the life of Lotta Crabtree, whose biography this film is supposed to depict, we cannot guarantee its authenticity in this respect, but we do recommend it fully as a vehicle of sparkling comedy, beautiful singing, refreshing dances and a heartwarming love story.

Are there such things as red California poppies? Several months ago while sauntering through a dime store, we saw a package representing itself to contain seeds of this kind of flower. The printing on the package also stated that by planting these seeds, one would have red California poppies inside of ten days.

We invested the required ten cent piece, took the seeds home and planted them in our garden. That was some four months ago. Although our garden is still not flaming with red poppies, our gardening efforts seem not to be wasted. In the corner where we planted the seeds there are now poppy plants about one inch high. Better late than never, we say. But, will these bushes burst forth with red poppies or will they be the conventional yellow ones?

Time alone will tell, but at the rate our poppy plants are growing, we may be too old to care by the time they blossom. In the meantime if anyone has proof that there are such things as red California poppies, would he kindly phone and let us know. The number is PLaza 5-4321.

If you make all your own clothes or sew for a family of youngsters, here's how to save yourself some money by making your patterns do double or triple duty. Juggle them around. By that we mean, when you're planning another dress, use the waist from one pattern and the skirt from another and maybe the sleeves from still another. You can obtain originality in styles this way and save yourself expense at the same time.

A film is advertised as having been made in the bay area, and what happens? The theatre is packed. Why? Logically, one would think that persons would be much more eager to attend a movie which affords them views of distant parts of the world, but this is not the case. Reproductions of familiar scenes in movies attract people much more than strange sights. Yes, it seems that in movies as in everything else in this world, we prefer the familiar and the known to something which is strange, no matter how exciting or fascinating it may appear.

Navy College Program Exam Set

The Navy announced recently that the sixth nation-wide competitive examination for its college training program has been scheduled for December 8, 1951.

The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program is open to male high school seniors or graduates who are between the ages of 17 and 21, and a citizen of the United States.

Successful candidates will be given a 4-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation. The 1800 scholarships include tuition, books, fees, equipment, uniforms, plus $600 per year retainer pay. After a period of obligated service, officers commissioned from the NROTC may request retention as career officers or transfer to the reserve.

HERE AND THERE

The Nancys had it last week—birthdays, that is. Nancy Dethlefson had several little friends and their mothers to her home on Foothill Drive to help her celebrate her second birthday, November 11. Present were Lynn Jones, Karen Guymon and mothers. On the sick list and unable to attend were Vicky and Claudia Guz as well as Ginnie Jones. Hope they're feeling better.

Nancy Swoverland had her first birthday Saturday, November 10, at the home of her parents, Dorothy and Mark Swoverland on 87th street. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lee, helped make the occasion a happy one.

The McEwens on Sweetwood drive celebrated their daughter Nancy's first birthday with a party on November 7. Her little guests included Ann McEwen, Tina Gnesios, Bonnie and Peter Blanchley, Diane and Pamila Johnson and Roger Edler.

The Community Presbyterian church of Broadmoor Village was the scene of a highly succesful bazaar on November 8 and 9. A large number of members and visitors turned out to enjoy a tasty dinner and to shop at the colorful booths.

So another busy week ends. See you all next week.

NEW RADAR UNIT BUILT IN MARIN

Atop a Marin county ridge, an alert radar "ear" has been constructed, cocked 24-hours a day, toward the Pacific, it was disclosed here this week. Security regulations prevent disclosing its exact location.

Within five minutes after the "ear" detects unidentified or doubtful aircraft in the vicinity, armed jet aircraft from a nearby airbase, their guns loaded, are in the air to intercept and check the the identity of the suspicious planes.

The installation, started in June, 1950, and completed within a year at a cost of $5,500,000, comprises 22 acres on which are located dormitories, messhalls, garages, dayrooms, radio antennas, dome-shaped structures and high wires.

Sulfur deposits in Texas and Louisiana supply by far the largest part of the world's requirements today.

JEFFERSON ATTEMPTS SIXTH STRAIGHT TURKEY DAY WIN AT SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO THURSDAY MORNING

Wrapping up a not too successful season, the Jefferson Indians battle Sequoia high Friday night, and conclude the season in the traditional Turkey Day clash against South San Francisco at the Warriors' field on November 22 at 11 a. m.

Records and statistics can all be shelved for the annual Little Big game when the local clubs battle for the victor's placque. The Indians seeking retention, and the Warriors hoping to gain the trophy which has been absent from their campus for five years.

A new trophy will be added to this year's contest, sponsored by the South San Francisco and Daly City-Colma Lions club, this presentation offering the students as well as the teams a chance to participate.

The annual perpetual Sportsman ship trophy will be awarded the high schooi displaying the best sportsmanship and spirit, on the field, in the stands and prior to the Turkey Day clash.

Deportment will also play an important role, with great consideration going to the school that conducts their pre-game activities and campus raids in an undamaging manner.

Off seasonal records, the teams are rated even, both having a 2 win 3 loss standing to date. Coach Glenn South has one slight advantage. The Warriors are scheduled to meet undefeated Palo Alto Friday night, while The Indians meet less feared Sequoia high.

The Warriors must employ full effort if they have any hopes of stopping Paly high. On the other hand Coach Ray DeJong is in a very favorable position.

Injury riddled Jefferson has been limping along all season. Injury after injury has hampered the Tribesmen attack, and at no time this season has the team taken the field at full strength.

The Blue and White of South City, although green is a fighting outfit. DeJong has some fine backs in Jim Cherry, Stan Perry, Willie Cahill, and Burl Lennier. Also they have a hot and cold passing attack that can explode at any time.

Chief worry for the Warriors is Fullback Ray Tschirgi, contender for PAL scoring honors. Tschirgi, having pounded lines for 8 touchdowns and 48 points this season, is a bruising plunger with no regard for the opponent's forward wall.

Izzy Galente, scatback, also a very consistent runner and threat at any time, will also bear watching by the South City clan. Galente, whose running cannot be judged by touchdowns scored, has been knocking off the five, six, and seven yard gains, responsible for setting up many of Jefferson scoring opportunities this year.

Jefferson will be shooting for their sixth-straight in Indian-Warrior battles. In the last eleven years of the Turkey Day contest, Jefferson has won seven, lost three, and tied one.

No more than two touchdowns have separated the teams throughout that time. During South's time as coach they have captured five of six contests.

Trailing 13-0 in the fourth quarter last season, the Indians came alive, and registered two quick tallies in the final nine minutes of play. Byran McMahons conversion, with fifty second remaining, supplied the fourteenth point and tie breaker. McMahon is quarterback for Thursday's contest.

The November 22 donnybrook is a toss up, but should provide holiday goers with many thrills prior to the Turkey chow-down.

South's chargers face a vastly improved squad against Sequoia. Always a slow starter, Sequoia has a reputation for coming from behind, losing at the start of a season but knocking most opponents off at the end.

Meb Buchanan and Art Amaya, two of the top backs in the league, have been breaking away since the line settled down, and both the running and passing attack has improved.

S.F. Rec. Dept. Holds Swimming Classes

The San Francisco Recreation and Park department will conduct a course in swimming instructions for boys and girls between 6 and 18 years of age each Saturday morning at Crystal Plunge, 775 Lombard street, beginning November 17, and running through March 15, 1952.

The two class periods, one running from 10 a.m. to 10:45 and the other from 10:45 to 11:30, will be conducted by competent swimming instructors.

Children are asked to bring their own suits and towels. Also to participate they must be either intermediate or non-swimmers.

There is no charge for instructions, but a 10c admission fee will be charged.

Classes will start promptly at the specified times. Each boy and girl will be assigned to a class according to his or her ability, and will register with the instructor to whom he or she is assigned.

Only children taking instructions will be admitted to the pool, between the hours of 10 and 11:30 a.m.

Lions Regain Lead In Kegler Tourney

Entering the tenth week of the Daly City-Colma merchants bowling league, the Daly City-Colma Lions gained a slight lead over the College Hill Market.

With both teams tied for first place last week, the Lions Club picked up three games, while College Hill won 1 and lost two this week, giving the local Lions a two game advantage in the bowling race.

Joe Belli, Daly City-Colma Lions, rolled a 225 game to take high scoring honors for the week. Frank Thur, Thur Meat company, and Paul Bruch, Lombardi Auto service, both registered 212 scores.

Bruch, who has the highest listed average of all members in the league with 184, hit high series of the week with 610, bowling games of 188, 210, and 212. Bruch has been one of the high men consistently throughout the tournament, and boasts an all time high game of 278.

Judge Sweeney Fines Drunk Driver $125

A San Francisco woman was fined $125 by Judge W. J. Sweeney in police court Wednesday after pleading guilty to drunken driving on Mission street November 9.

She is Mrs. Mildred Anderson, 186 Tioga, who allegedly drove through the crosswalk at Mission and Crocker streets in an "erratic manner."

In addition to the fine, Mrs. Anderson's driver's license was suspended for 90 days.

HALF MOON BAY DOWNS 120s 49-43

Tribe 110 Casaba Men Take Contest 27-21

Al Figone's 13 points gave the Jefferson 110s a 27-21 victory over Half Moon Bay, while the 120s nullified all possible chances of gaining the PAL title in their division by bowing to Half Moon Bay 49-43.

Figone's five field goals and three free throws were the cinchers for the Junior Indians, and helped retain his position as leading scorer on the team.

The 120s, who until the Half Moon Bay Contest, had a slim chance to take the title, erased all hopes following their loss.

Although leading at half time 21-17, the Jeffersonian saw their lead dwindle and then overtaken, with Buebeng pacing the action for the opponents, tanking 22 points.

Villar's 20 points highlighted the local play followed by Plunketts with 10 and Costello with 9 points.

PALO ALTO MAN FOUND GUILTY ON TWO COUNTS

Awaiting sentence today for speeding without due cause and striking a pedestrian in a cross walk is Serge Letlat of Palo Alto.

He was found guilty of both charges in police court Wednesday by Judge W. J. Sweeney. The decision followed a trial, during which time Letlat attempted to prove his innocence.

It was Letlat who allegedly struck Carol Prease, 16, of Brisbane as she was crossing Mission street October 22. She suffered minor injuries.

The Palo Alto man will be sentenced Wednesday, November 21.

Boys From "Down Under" Score Positive Win Over The 11 Lads From The "Hill"

Colma a.m. "B" — 8
O. L. P. H. "B" — 0

The O.L.P.H. "B" team ended their season last Saturday by dropping their fourth straight game and winding up in the cellar of the "B" division.

The boys from the hill top school put up a stiff battle for three and a half periods, but lost a chance for a tie when Carl Mecchi, a.m., standout, tagged Billy Harold, O.L.P.H. back, behind the goal line for a safety to put his side in front by a 2 to 0 count.

The first quarter found the Colma team working the ball down to the O.L.P.H. 25 yard line, mainly on the running of Legus Watts and Dan Rasmussen, but that was the deepest penetration they could manufacture. The O.L.P.H. team led by Billy Harold and Jack Bautista drove to the Colma 30, but that was the end of the line.

Dual

The play in the second period turned out to be a kicking dual between Harold of O.L.P.H. and Ron Davis of Colma. Benavides intercepted a Davis pass on his own 6 to halt a touchdown drive. Jim Ryan looked good on several nice runs, however, the outstanding defensive play of Colma's Watts, prevented the O.L.P.H. team from advancing the ball too far down the field, so the score at the half read 0 to 0.

The third quarter was full of long runs by Gary Atteberry, Legus Watts, and Dan Rasmussen of Colma. With time running out in the period, Harold stepped behind his own goal line in an attempted pass and was touched before he could toss the ball. The fast charging Mecchi of Colma received credit for the safety, and Colma broke the ice with a 2 to 0 lead.

Pay Off

The last period was all Colma as Watts and Rasmussen continued to sweep the ends for long gains which eventually paid off. Billy Harold intercepted Rasmussen's pass of his own 3 only to have Rasmussen do the same to Harold's pass on the O.L.P.H. 7. With two seconds remaining in the game, Rasmussen tossed a nifty pass into the hands of Carl Mecchi for the only touchdown of the game. The final score, 8 to 0.

The boys who participated for the O.L.P.H. team during the season were, Billy Harold, Henry Oliver, Waldo Benavides, Jack Bautista, Tom Fenn, Richard Garabaldi, Jim Ryan, Mike Sullivan, and Ray Brush.

Colma a.m. "A" — 18
O. L. P. H. "A" — 0

Playing without the services of their star halfback, Frank Bricker, and three first string players, the O.L.P.H. boys suffered their fourth defeat of the season and finished in last place.

Faced with the possibility of a forfeit, coach Bucky Linhares moved several "B" players on his "A" team and they held the Colma boys in check most of the first half.

The Colma team used their height to advantage and ultimately passed their way to victory. This is the way the play went by quarters.

First quarter: O.L.P.H. kicked off. Brush intercepted Stevenson's long pass on his own 5. Brush threw to Nick Sutter and the latter rambled up to the midfield stripe. Perrin recovered Brush's fumble on the O.L.P.H. 40. Lucia jump-passed to Art Sutter on the O.L.P.H. 15. O.L.P.H. held. Brush completed two passes to Sullivan. Score 0 to 0.

Rushing

Second quarter: Don Perrin's terrific rushing stopped the O.L.P.H. running attack. John Lucia, Colma's star back, moved the ball to the O.L.P.H. 15. Lucia passed to Perrin who was stopped on the O.L.P.H. 2. O.L.P.H. ball on their own 2. Harold Funkhauser tagged Ryan behind the goal line for a safety. Score, Colma 2, O.L.P.H. 0. Lucia passed to big Herm Stevenson for 40 yards to place the ball on the O.L.P.H. one-yard line. Lucia passed to Perrin for a touchdown. Lucia raced around right end for the extra point. Half time score, 9 to 0, Colma's favor.

Third quarter: Funkhauser's 30 yard run placed the ball on the O.L.P.H. 18. Lucia went to the 2 on a nifty run, but Sullivan, O.L.P.H. standout, batted down Lucia's last down pass. Funkhauser added two more points for his side when he trapped Brush in the end zone. Score, Colma 11, O.L.P.H. 0.

Short Punt

Perrin took Brush's short punt to the O.L.P.H. 23. Lucia passed to Perrin for a touchdown, but the play was nullified and O.L.P.H. gained possession of the ball. Sullivan passed to Brush on the Colma 15. Sullivan again threw to Brush placing the ball on the Colma 5 yard line. Colma held and took over on downs.

Fourth quarter: Lucia's long pass to Stevenson batted down by Brush, who was all over the field on defense for O.L.P.H. Failing to gain Lucia kicked. Lucia intercepted Brush's pass on the O.L.P.H. 25 and raced over the goal line for six points. Lucia tossed over the chalk mark to Stevenson for the extra point making the final score read, Colma 18, O.L.P.H. 0.

Games next Saturday between Colma a.m. and p.m. teams will decide the champions in each division.

Sarto Tops Mateo Baseball League

Traveling in a tough league, a league where Sarto AC was expected to place in the second division, the local club is currently leading the San Mateo Winter Baseball league with five wins and no losses.

With professionals prominent on almost every team roster, Sarto AC is semi-puritan, that exception being Donald Mossi, property of the Cleveland Indians, who joined the squad recently as a relief hurler.

The squad composed of mostly local talent has overcome New Pisa, San Bruno Newells, Palo Alto Oaks, Double play, and A. J. Schloss.

Local pitchers grabbed all five wins with Tito Sarto taking two, Babe Ottenello two, and Bob Tollander one.

Top hitter on the squad is Neil Nostrum, who is batting close to a .400 clip.

Sarto A.C. meets the Denike Travelers Sunday, November 17, at the South San Francisco Field.

Bank of America Distributing 1718 Local Xmas Checks

An early sign of Christmas Season's approach, the distribution of 1718 Bank of America Christmas Club checks to residents of Colma and Daly City was disclosed today by J. Ferrari of Colma Branch, and F. Erickson, branch manager of Daly City.

The managers said that the end-of-the-year checks are being sent out November 21, earlier than in previous years, in order to beat seasonal mail and shopping rushes. Bank of America will distribute 280,000 checks totalling $27,000,000 to club members throughout California this year, according to the branch managers. It is a new record for savings programs of this kind.

Christmas checks receive a warm welcome from the club members, who, as a result, are better able to meet year-end financial obligations and to help Santa Claus fill the children's Yuletide stockings, Ferrerri and Erickson said. They added that enrollments for the 1952 Christmas Club are now being accepted at the bank.

"Ballet Theatre" Plays At Curran November 12 to 24

Ballet Theatre with its great stars of the dance, full of brilliant corps de ballet, and its symphony orchestra will be at the Curran Theatre, San Francisco, from November 12 to 24. Performances are given nightly at 8:30 with a Wednesday matinee on the 14th and two Saturday matinees, the 17th and 24th.

Ballet Theatre is the largest non-profit organization in the dance world. It comes here after a triumphant tour of Europe, South America, and a capacity engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York City.

Directors of the Ballet Theatre are Lucia Chase and Oliver Smith. Stars of the company are headed by Olympics athlete Igor Youskevitch, recognized without a critical dissent as the world's greatest classical dancer; Alicia Alonso, Cuban-born prima ballerina; Mary Ellen Moylan; John Kriza; and the Parisian stars Jean Babilee and Nathalie Philippart, who are making their first San Francisco appearance since their sensational acclaim last Spring in New York. It is well to note that Youskevitch is the only living dancer who does the meraculous feat of entrechat-huit.

The repertoire consists of some 19 ballets—the old favorites blended with the new ballet productions.

MOUNT JEFFERSON CHANGES

Mount Jefferson, the second highest peak in Oregon, recently changed its appearance, according to the National Automobile Club, when a rock avalanche broke from its western face.

I KNEW HIM WHEN

By RIDGE CUMMINGS

When somebody mentions a public hero, people love to say "I knew him when."

The fact that in the recent or distant past the person was in circulation among us commoners just like anybody else seems to have a de-glamorizing effect upon the listeners.

There are not many celebrities of whom I can say I knew them when, at least not that I can think of off hand. That probably is because one doesn't think of people one knows well as celebrities. They may have achieved some measure of fame and wealth but we think of them as individuals with peculiarities rather than as big names.

But last week it was my fortune to be in on what may have been the birth of a celebrity.

It was a she. Her name is Carolyn Jones. Miss Jones is 22, about five foot five, slender, blonde, with big bedroom eyes.

I met her first five or six weeks ago. She was rehearsing in a play in which I was interested because two actor friends, Oscar Kayle and Jerry Lawrence, had parts in it.

Good Play

The play was Carson Kanin's "Live Wire," which has to do with seven young actors who pool their slender financial resources to buy a quonset hut and drop it down on a vacant Manhatten lot. Their troubles begin when the live wire, a thorough-going heel with a "What Makes Sammy Run" complex, moves in on them.

Oscar and Jerry were two of the seven in the hut. I watched them rehearse and saw Miss Jones several times but never suspected she was on the road to stardom.

The play opened last week and by a strange coincidence I was assigned by a Los Angeles paper to write a review of it. Naturally I was prejudiced in favor of the play but even from an objective point of view the group gave it a good performance and I said as much, at considerable length.

The next evening I was visiting Oscar and his roommates in a Hollywood apartment whose disorder was reminiscent of the quonset hut in the play, when who would said in with her arms full of champagne bottles but Carolyn Jones.

She was radiant with happiness and as we drank the campagne we soon learned why.

That afternoon Paramount had picked up her option and signed her to a seven year contract.

Dynamite

It seems that 15 days before Miss Jones had been given a part in a movie based on the Kefauver Committee hearings and called "This Is Dynamite." After her first day's work she was signed to a 15-day option. She called it a paid screen test, which is of course better than any other kind.

The rushes were good and coincidentally she opened in "Live Wire" on the 14th day and got good critical notices. So on the 15th day she was given a contract at $250 a week for the first six months, $300 for the next six months and increases each year thereafter if Paramount picks up the option each time it falls due.

Thus are stars born. The local papers already have had stories about her and soon her fame will spread, via the studio publicity department, to all sections of the country.

Happy Girl

If I ever saw a happy girl it was she. She took off her shoes and curled up in a big chair in the corner and beamed benevolently at us as we toasted her. She limited herself to one glass because she had a performance that night. But from time to time after some eloquent toast she would jump to her feet and kiss the declaiming toastmaster.

All except me. I regret to confess that when my turn came to give a toast I was as fullsome and grandiloquent as the rest but Miss Jones did not leap up and kiss me. Perhaps it was because I mentioned the horrid word "options" in the course of my remarks, expressing the pious hope they would all be picked up.

It's when you get a contract without options that you are really sitting pretty.

But she is on top of the world for the next six months at least, with a guaranteed six thousand bucks coming in: and if she is fortunate in getting suitable parts and regular contract renewals, then in a few years I'll be able to say I knew her when.

CHECK SPARE TIRE

Be sure your spare tire is checked for proper inflation each time the other tires are checked, reminds the California State Automobile Association. The air pressure in a spare tire will go down as fast as the pressure in the other tires.

Scouts Welcome Six New Troops

By MARIAN GRIFFIS

The Girl Scouts of the Daly City-Colma Council are happy to welcome into their ranks six new troops which are now fully organized and meeting regularly.

These troops are: Brownie Troop No. 27, Broadmoor-Colma neighborhood; Brownie Troop No. 69, Coastside neighborhood; Brownie Troop No. 25, and Intermediate Troops No. 26 and No. 29, Westlake neighborhood.

The existence of these troops represents months of preparation on the part of the Community Chest sponsored professional staff. Mrs. John Calvin is the Daly City-Colma organization chairman and she is assisted by neighborhood adult volunteers, troop leaders and committees.

They deserve hearty thanks for the self-sacrificing effort they have made and will continue to make to enrich the lives of these girls as individuals and as citizens. The Girl Scouts need more women like them to bring the scouting program to the many girls now being denied that opportunity.

Turkey Dinner Provided Employes

Goodwill Industries of San Francisco is entertaining its 250 handicapped employees at a big Thanksgiving dinner, Wednesday evening, November 14.

This is one of the red letter days for Goodwillers and they all look forward to an enjoyable evening. The traditional turkey and all the "fixins" will be served. Members of the Board of Directors will be there, and President Fred D. Parr will act as master of ceremonies for the evening's program. The program includes an address by Bishop Donald H. Tippett and musical selections.

"Goodwill Industries needs your repairable discards more than ever before to keep all its handicapped employees on the payroll during the coming winter months," says Jay W. Rathbun, Executive Director. Your unwanted materials make "jobs for the handicapped."

Hillside Is Name Chosen For New Parent-Teacher Group

The second organizational meeting of the new Colma Parent-Teacher Association took place at the Colma school on Wednesday evening, November 7. Mrs. G. J. Sirex presided over the meeting and the first order of business was a unanimous vote to call the unit the Hillside Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. John Sorensen, chairman of the by-laws committee made her report and it was agreed that the by-laws be adopted.

In an impressive ceremony, Mrs. Faun Tuska, director of extension for the 17th District California Congress of Parents and Teachers, installed the newly elected officers who are as follows:

Mrs. John Daniels, president; Mrs. John Bergstresser, vice president; Miss Marjorie Tobias, honorary vice president; Mrs. James Hickey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Cahn, recording secretary; Mrs. A. Caime, financial secretary; Mrs. Stanley Michelsen, treasurer; Mrs. Barton McFarland, historian; Mrs. H. Z. Weibel, auditor and Mrs. Carl Berg, parliamentarian.

Upon completion of the ceremony, Mrs. Sirex handed over the president's gavel to Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Byron Jensen, president of Jefferson High School PTA, presented Mrs. Daniels with a date book and advised that a history record book would arrive from Los Angeles in the near future. The new president cordially thanked the many persons responsible for bringing to life the new unit, which has started with an excellent enrollment of one hundred and thirty-one charter members.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Mullin, president of Crocker PTA and her co-workers. The next meeting will take place on November 28th.

South City Downs Hayward A.C. 29-7

The South San Francisco Windbreakers put in their most impressive victory of the season as they mangled Hayward A.C. by a score of 89 to 7 on Hunter Field in South City.

From the opening kickoff the Windbreakers took over and scored on the third play. In 37 plays from scrimmage 13 scores were tallied. Most impressive scores were made by the first stringers who carried only once each. Bob Hamilton went around end on the midstripe for a TD and later on intercepted a pass on the 30 and turned that into a score. Aldo DeTomasi fleetfooted the only time he carried for 65 yards and a tally. Bill "The Tank" Calhoun barrelled his way 44 yards for his only carry.

Coach Leo Ferko had his reserves in most of the game and they marched every time they gained possession. Ferko was constantly shifting his defense and offense to give them more experience.

This was the highest score ever made by a Windbreakers team in the five years of competition.

The only Hayward score came late in the fourth quarter. Valencia passed to Krines, who was in the end zone all by himself. Krines caught a Valencia pass for the point after touchdown also.

Coach Ferko had his men running through new plays for their game with the Petaluma Leghorns on Hunter Field in South City next Sunday, November 18. The new plays seemed to put spark in the offense as the team averaged over 12 yards on every play from scrimmage.

So far this season the Windbreakers have won 7 games, tied one, and lost one. Petaluma has won 4 and lost one in league play. The Windbreakers have bowed the last two times they encountered the Leghorns.

S.F. Man Is Hit Crossing Market St.

Colma Woman Driving Car

Rain, and poor visibility on the part of a driver, almost killed a San Francisco man as he crossed Market Street in Colma last Friday evening, police reported today.

Germano Croci, 354 Columbus avenue, was crossing the intersection of Market and Mission when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Wilma Proper, Box 53, Colma, police said.

Rushed to Junipero Serra hospital, Croci was treated for cuts, and contusions of his face, legs and arms. He remained in the hospital three days for treatment.

Police report Mrs. Proper had stopped at a red light on Mission and Market, and was turning into Market when she allegedly hit Croci.

The case is still under investigation, although police indicate no charges will be brought against the Colma woman.

S.M. Wrestling Match Slated For November 29

The San Mateo boxing and wrestling club will stage its next wrestling card at the fiesta building on Thursday, November 29.

Promoter James Kehoe also announced this week that the club had relieved Harry Sherrey of his matchmaking duties. Club officials decided that the promoter also would serve as matchmaker. Sherrey, a San Matean, had been matchmaker for the club since its organization six months ago.

Kehoe said the reason there would be no show this week was the fiesta building was being used for a real estate exhibit. The following Thursday is Thanksgiving day.

The club, which earmarks profits from the shows for AmVets, has staged two cards in San Mateo, both drawing over 2000 wrestling fans.

Pheasant Areas Await Hunters

Eleven cooperative pheasant hunting areas, blanketing some of the best hunting country in the State, will be opened without charge again this year to the more than 170,000 nimrods who are expected to participate in the 10-day season, starting Saturday, November 17.

In its third year, the cooperative hunting area agreement between the California Department of Fish and Game and landowners will see more than 105,000 acres opened to a maximum of 9,000 hunters at a time. When the program was inaugurated in 1949, the hunting acreage totalled 56,000.

Pheasants raised at State game farms are released ahead of the season on cooperating landowners' territory—provided the rancher allows free shooting. Only one area charges the legally allowable fee of $2 per hunter.

With fish and game wardens patrolling each area, the State-wide pheasant hunting bag limits and regulations will apply: no more than two male birds per day or 10 per season. No hen pheasants may be taken on cooperative hunting areas.

Location of areas and open acreage listed by the Department:

Staten Island, San Joaquin county; Sutter Basin, Sutter county; Natomas, Sacramento and Sutter counties; Grimes, Colusa and Yolo counties; Sartain Ranch, Colusa county; Butte Creek, Butte and Glenn counties; Meridian, Sutter county; Los Banos, Merced county; Firebaugh, Fresno county; Twitchell Island, Sacramento county.

Knowles Extension "Opens" Westlake

Direct Route Ready For Traffic

Daly City residents now have a direct route to the Westlake area.

This week the long awaited extension of Knowles avenue was opened to traffic. The street runs from the "top of the hill" to the intersection of Junipero Serra and the Alemany extension.

Previous to the street extension it was necessary to travel many blocks, either north or south on Junipero Serra before reaching Westlake. The new street makes a direct crossing of the boulevard possible.

Mayor And Wife Mark Anniversary

Celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Green, 183 E. Vista.

They observed their anniversary at a dinner at friend's home.

Mayor Green and his wife were married when the mayor was Pvt. Paul Green, 17th Infantry, Fort Ord. They were married, as a matter of fact, just one month after Pearl Harbor, and necessarily had a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Green (ne Pat Murray) is the mother of three children.

FIRE LADDIES TAKE A HOLIDAY

That was no fire, that was only the fire department at "play."

This was the explanation given out over the police phone several times Tuesday night as the fire department reversed things by burning down an old house in the 100 block of Peoria street.

The city condemned the building, and rather than go to the expense of having it torn down, turned its destruction over to the fire department.

OUR SERVICEMEN

(This column brings you news of men in the armed service. In order that it may cover the activities of all Daly City area men, drop into The Record office, 3317 San Jose Ave., or call PLaza 5-4321.)

Ens. Harvey J Melicker, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Melicker of 447 Irvington street, Daly City, is serving on board the destroyer escort, USS Epperson attached to Task Force 77 and 95.

The USS Epperson has participated in bombardment of Songjin, Hungnam, and Wonsan, Korea. Ens. Melicker, husband of Mrs. Anita Ryan Melicker of 800 Templeton ave., Daly City, graduated from the University of California.

(The following is a list of local men now in the service, and where they may be reached. The Record prints this list as a public service. Any additions, or changes, should be addressed to The Record, 3317 San Jose avenue—or by phoning PLaza 5-4321. Please help us to keep this list up-to-date, as it will facilitate mail to men in the armed forces.)

Thde Rainmakers

County Officials Cloud Up Over Possibility Of Artificial Rain

San Mateo county this week turned thumbs down on a Santa Clara plan for artificial rain making.

While the plan for rain other than that donated by "mother nature," rested before the Santa Clara county board of supervisors, San Mateo county strongly objected on the grounds that added rain would hamper the county's building program, the No. 1 industry at the present time.

Disapprovals were voiced from all directions. Harry E. Smith, vice president of the Peninsula General Contractors and Builders association, voiced his objections to the Santa Clara board of supervisors, contending that added precipitation would seriously affect unfinished dwellings and proposed projects in the county.

Guy T. Atkinson, by way of telegram, notified the Santa Clara supervisors, that "rainmakers" could endanger his $1,000,000 project at Moffat Field. Atkinson contract stipulates that he must pay a $1,000 a day penalty for non-completion of his contract.

The telegram indicated that a court action would insue, if unprecedented rains, slowed down the Moffat Field project.

Smith presented the same view, mentioning court action if unecessary rain was blown into San Mateo county.

A decrease in the county's water table prompted the action to help mother nature along by artificial means.

Mateo Leads Frosh Soph League, Jeff Holds Second Spot

With two games remaining in the PAL frosh-soph league, Coach Joe McGrath's Braves, have a tight grip on the second place spot, and a small chance of still tying for the title.

San Mateo high, boasting an unbeaten record, and the only team which beat the Jefferson juniors, tops the league, followed by the Braves, and then Burlingame.

The Mateoan must still meet their rivals Burlingame, a contest that would virtually cinch their pennant hopes. A loss in this battle, would give the locals an opportunity to tie for top honors, should they complete their two remaining games undefeated.

They must meet winless San Jose and their neighboring rivals South San Francisco.

Omar Grimes and John Geersten provided the scoring against Sequoia last week, the Cherokees, losing 13-7. Grimes, leading scorer, climaxed a sustained drive with a 3 yard plunge in the second quarter for the first tally.

Geersten, snatched a pass from Ray Rosa, and scampered 30 yards for the final TD in the third quarter. Geersten kicked the extra point.

Also, in a practice contest, the braves ran over Serra high school 32-6, with Bill Butler's 95 yard ramble from scrimmage providing the highlight of the day. Other scorers were Rosa, Ed Gallagher, Jim Galindo, and Grimes.

San Francisco Man Charged With Theft

Warrant for petty theft was issued Tuesday by Judge Sweeney of Daly City for Maurice Forman, 630 Van Ness avenue, San Francisco.

The warrant was issued on a charge by Phyllis Kahler of the Daly City Auto Wreckers, Colma. According to police the Colma company received a worthless check from Forman for merchandise.

Judge Sweeney set bail at $250 cash or $500 bail. The warrant and a photograph of Forman have been sent to the San Francisco police.

OUTLOOK FOR PHEASANT SEASON

Outlook for the coming pheasant season is very good in the Contra Costa county area, reports the National Automobile Club. Lots of birds are around and they are in good condition.

S.F., Oakland, Bid For '54 Bowling Tourney

San Francisco and Oakland have made their initial cooperative bid for bowling's greatest event, the American Bowling Congress Tournament, for 1954. Seattle, Fort Worth and Buffalo are also bidding for the major sports event.

Chief problem at this stage of negotiations is whether San Francisco and/or Oakland can offer a structure where 32 to 36 bowling alleys can be installed and at least 2500 spectators view the competition, at a price which ABC's board of directors considers reasonable.

PRIVATE RONALD GRITSCH of Hillsborough, wounded in Korea, and now a patient at Letterman Army Hospital, chats with Mrs. Samuel Crim of San Mateo, a local Red Cross Gray Lady on duty at the hospital every Monday.

Veteran Speaks

"I Wouldn't Be Here Today, Except For The Generous People Who Gave Blood"

A day with our Gray Ladies at Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco is an experience long to be remembered.

Mrs. Samuel Crim, Mrs. Joe Ray and Miss Florence Loomis from the San Mateo County Red Cross Chapter, trek to Letterman every Monday to help bring cheer and comfort to the patients there. Recently I was included in their group, and watched them work. The Army gives its patients wonderful care, but the busy nurses utilize to the fullest Gray Ladies and Nurses Aides for the extra services which mean so much to the men. Gray Ladies are a link between the men and their homes. In the paraplegic and blind wards there are letters to be written for patients who cannot write, there are errands and shopping to be done. Just visiting with the ones who are far from home proves a tremendous morale builder.

According to the Gray Ladies, the big thrill comes at Christmas when shopping is done for gifts for the men to send home. Packages are gaily wrapped and cards written right at the patients' bedsides, so that they feel the personal touch of the happiness and spirit of giving of the holiday season. Mrs. Crim, a Gray Lady for six years, says it is the most soul-satisfying work she has ever done. Many of "her boys" write her long after they have recovered and gone home.

Bad Wounds

On our rounds I talked to handsome, nineteen year old Ronald Gritsch of San Mateo, who greeted us with a big smile. Ronald is fortunate as his mother, Mrs. J. A. Gritsch, 1025 Lancaster Road, Hillsborough, comes to see him every day. Young Gritsch, a private in Company I, 38th Infantry, 2nd Division, entered the Army February 7, landed at Inchon Korea on July 30, and was seriously wounded twenty-three days later. In a mobile front line hospital unit he was immediately given blood transfusions.

Flown out to the hospital in Osaka, Japan, he received more transfusions, fifteen in all. "I wouldn't be here today," Ronald said, "if it weren't for the generous people who gave blood. I wish everyone could realize, like I do, how important it is to have enough blood for the boys who are wounded fighting 'way off there in Korea. Believe me, the minute the doctors will let me I am going to start giving my blood so someone else will have the chance I had to come home alive."

Mrs. Gritsch, too, says she has come to realize the vital need for more blood, since she has seen how it saved her son's life. She plans to do blood donor recruitment for the local Red Cross, and has just given the San Mateo County Blood Bank a large coffee-maker and a case of coffee, to aid in serving those who are donors for the Armed Forces. "We could never do enough," she said, "to show our appreciation of what the Blood Service and the Red Cross have done for our family."

GOOD REAR LIGHTS IMPORTANT

When driving at night, be sure the rear lights on your car are burning, cautions the California State Automobile Association. The driver of a car coming up behind you may not see you unless your rear lights are burning brightly.
